From the Study Isaiah 35:1-2 (NIV UK)

Joy of the Redeemed

The desert and the parched land will be glad;
the wilderness will rejoice and blossom.
Like the crocus, 2 it will burst into bloom;
it will rejoice greatly and shout for joy.
The glory of Lebanon will be given to it,
the splendour of Carmel and Sharon;
they will see the glory of the Lord,
the splendour of our God.

How do you feel when you see Spring being revealed by nature and Summer showing nature's glory? It's true that many people don't see or notice any of these things as their lives are too focussed on the mundane or the profits to be gained by the destruction of the natural world.

How many Christians still carelessly toss a sweet paper to the ground? Or they throw a paper cup or a can into a bin only for it to miss, but they don't pick it up.

I am moved by the beauty of this world God created, a world which in itself points to a creator, but I am often dismayed at the Christian population which doesn't seem to care. Does that mean I'm expecting you to join Greenpeace, or become a superfan of Greta Thunberg? No it doesn't, however, I believe

From the Study (Continued)

We are all called to take responsibility for the world God has given us to care for, while at the same time seeking to bring others into a relationship with Jesus, causing them to 'burst into bloom' as the people God intended them to be.

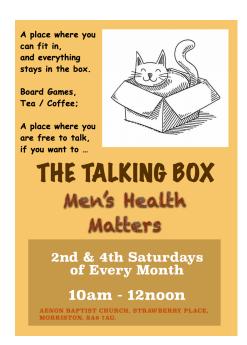

Our calling is as much about caring for this world as it is caring for its people.

Be blessed and be a blessing this month in Jesus name,

Pastor Phil.

Lord Jesus, please help us to see Your glory in the world around us; show us how to have compassion on others and respect for this world we live in.

Thank You Lord, Amen.

ECO-CHURCH - Continued

We are living through this time-where the best laid plans and dreams can often feel shot to pieces by reality, it might be health, or a variety of other challenges that impact us personally alongside the grim big picture stuff. So as we wade through our own run-down hotel experiences, we are faced with a choice of adapting, living and enjoying as best as we possibly can, even while lamenting loss- or giving up and throwing in the towel.

The desert and the parched land will be glad; the wilderness will rejoice and blossom.

Like the crocus, 2 it will burst into bloom; it will rejoice greatly and shout for joy.

The glory of Lebanon will be given to it, the splendour of Carmel and Sharon; they will see the glory of the Lord, the splendour of our God. (Isaiah 35:1-2)

Some more positive news....

12 Blue whales are returning to a part of the Indian Ocean from where whaling once wiped them out.

Europe's electric vehicle revolution has stepped up a gear. For the 1st time, EVs outsold diesel cars in the EU in 2023

55.8% Deforestation rates in the Amazon have fallen significantly within a year

Organisers of the Paris Olympic Gaes aim to reduce its carbon footprint by 1/2 compared with previous editions.

Great Big Green Week – 8-16th June.

You may remember from previous years that this week offers community groups across the UK the opportunity to hold events and activities with a 'green' theme. We are hoping to hold a few events here including a litter pick, a Big Green Service and an activity in the Ladies group meeting.

We'll keep you posted about dates and times of these.

ECO-CHURCH

Is it just me, or are others tired, exhausted and fed up with all the bad news we hear every day? Whether we watch the tv news, read the papers, listen to the radio or catch the news feeds on social media via our smart phone, one thing is certain - bad news dominates the mainstream news bulletins. We hear about wars, attacks on vulnerable and innocent people, abuse, people ripping other people off and people misusing their public positions. And it can all get a bit much. So much so, that many people I know don't make a point of watching or listening to news bulletins anymore. Couple that with the statistics and evidence about how much more quickly climate change is happening than expected, and the rate that nature is being depleted, and many of us can feel more than a bit gloomy!

Meanwhile some of these projects were happening:

- A new company is repurposing beauty products that have been rejected by the producers due to issues such as printing errors or 'slow-moving' items. (90million beauty products are thrown away in the UK each year).
- An innovation that captures heat from data centres and uses it to warm public swimming pools is about to scale up- helping with energy costs and re-using otherwise wasted heat energy.
  - 'Silo' the world's first zero waste restaurant has opened in London.
     (taken from Positive News magazine, Issues 116 & 117)

Some colleagues are talking about how exhausted they are due to this and how it takes a physical and mental toll on those who are truly passionate about caring for creation and the planet. But one colleague pointed to the film 'The Best Exotic Marigold Hotel'. In it, Sonny welcomes a group of very disappointed guests who are greeted with dust, faded walls, missing glass panes and taps that don't work. Despite the seemingly insurmountable challenges, Sonny responds to the angry guests demanding a better place to stay with the following:

"Everything will be alright in the end, so if it is not alright, it is not the end. The only real failure is the failure to try, and the measure of success is how we cope with disappointment...."

Poets' Corner

HIS HANDS - HIS FEET

I am your hands, I am your feet, Your lips to whisper something sweet, Your eyes to look with loving care On troubled people everywhere; Your ears to hear their faintest cry Borne in the air - a mournful sigh.

Your still small voice that warns of sin, Your arms enfolding sinners in; And grace to minister your balm, To offer peace and holy calm.

Your gentleness and mercy rare, To outcasts from the world's affair, Your tender heart and power to move The stubborn wills of those you love.

Your breath to breathe new life again Into the deadened souls of men, Your head to wear the thorny crown, Your body to be broken down.

Let your Spirit dwell in me, That onlookers can clearly see That I am Yours and You are mine And we in purpose intertwine. That's my prayer, that you should be Manifestly seen in me.

If you would like to learn more about Baptism and Church Membership please speak with Pastor Phil

We were therefore buried with him through baptism into death in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, we too may live a new life.

(Romans 6:4)

Annual General Meeting & General Meeting

AENON BAPTIST

Thursday 6th June 2024

5.30pm for Tea / Coffee 6.00pm Meeting starts.

During this meeting Members will be voting on the appointment of a New Deacon / Treasurer.

We thank Jan Davies for her service as Treasurer over several years; Jan will continue in her role as Deacon at Aenon, also as Gift Aid Secretary.

It is the duty of all members to be present at a Church Meeting whenever possible.

NEVER TO BE PRESENT AT A CHURCH MEETING IS TO NEGLECT A SOLEMN DUTY.
